QUARANTINE IN EUREKA.

Outsiders Stopped at the Depot and

Made to Leave Town.

(Special to The Herald.)

Eureka, Dcc. 22.—Four passengers alighted here this morning from the Oregon Short Line, in spite of the quarantine re-patterns which went into effect at 12 o'clock last night. Two of them, Messrs, Mackintosh and Sutton of Psovo, were allowed to proceed to the outskirts of town to their destination, the Lilly which is over the line in Utah country, with instructions not to return. The others were detained until the afternoon train, on which they departed. The city limits on the east and west sides are patrolled day and night by special police, and the quarantine regulations will be enforced to the letter. It is hoped that after the danger from holiday visits is next the present drastic order will be notified so that people who have business here may be enabled to transact it in person. The officials of the city and cancary have no desire to work a hardship on any one, but because of the laxity of the health officers at many valley towns in the discharge of their duties it was deemed unwise to allow persons to go to those places and indulge in the usual holiday festivities and by this exposure endanger the health of residents of the district. No pedidars are allowed to enter the district who come from or pass through infected towns, and as the several camps here depend almost wholly upon them for the products of the farm there is apt to be a famine in those products in a few days.

Pleasant last evening. Andrew L. Porter, formerly of this city, and Miss Julia A. Boyle of Springville, were married this week also.

The census of Mt. Pleasant as given out in the government returns is misleading. When the entire precinct is included, as in other small cities of the state, the population of Mt. Pleasant totals up 3,653 souls, or about 800 more than the returns give. The census of the city and of the precinct were taken by two different enumerators and the report of the precinct officer has not yet been made public.
